

Hi, I have read the proposal for change in the PAYE system, Personally I think the current system works well enough and the only change I would see beneficial would be when the monthly P.30 is submitted that it gives a breakdown of each employees earnings and deductions rather than just the total owing, I feel this would be a matter of consulting with the payroll software companies and asking that they include this feature.

At this stage revenue could see how the return is made up, if any individual received a refund or paid more than would be expected it would be clearly seen and the error (if any) could be amended. At present the total liability from a company is what is seen and breakdown is only shown when the end of year p.35 is submitted.

I feel this is the only amendment needed and I don't imagine how revenue could go through every payroll in the country on a weekly basis .

Kind Regards
