The European Union has adopted a further package of sanctions, Council Regulation \(EU\) 2022/394, in view of the gravity of the situation as a result of Russia's military actions destabilising the situation in Ukraine. The Regulation introduces prohibitions on the export of maritime navigation goods and radio communication technology to Russia.

It is prohibited to sell, supply, transfer or export, directly or indirectly, maritime navigation goods and technology, as listed in Annex XVI of the Regulation, whether or not originating in the Union, to any natural or legal person, entity or body in Russia, for use in Russia, or for the placing on board of a Russian-flagged vessel.

However, Article 3f, paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Regulation, provides for exemptions for the sale, supply, transfer or export of the goods and technology referred to in Annex XVI, where the goods are:

- for non-military use and for a non-military end-user
- intended for humanitarian purposes, health emergencies, the urgent prevention or mitigation of an event likely to have a serious and significant impact on human health and safety or the environment, or as a response to natural disasters
- which are intended for maritime safety
