- On 17 May 2023, the Commission put forward ambitious proposals for reform of the EU Customs Union.
- The reform package is a response to the current pressures under which EU Customs operates, including a huge increase in trade volumes, especially in e-commerce, a fast-growing number of EU standards that must be checked at the border, and shifting geopolitical realities and crises.

- The measures proposed include:
 - a new EU Customs Authority
 - a new EU Customs Data Hub
 - removal of €150 customs duty exemption threshold
 - creation of a ‘Trust and Check’ trader authorisation which contains elements of EIDR, self-assessment and fewer interventions
 - online platforms who sell goods into the EU will become the so-called ‘deemed importer’.
 - will be responsible for payment of duty and/or VAT
 - conformity with product safety/standards requirements
