Time Limits for Making a Claim:

Exemption from Tax on Interest Payments

A claimant should consider if they meet the conditions for exemption on interest withholding tax under section 246(3) TCA 1997. The legislation provides for these exemptions to be allowed automatically and do not require prior approval from Revenue, apart from the exemption under section 246(3)(d) TCA 1997. Further detail can be found in <https://www.revenue.ie/en/tax-professionals/tdm/income-tax-capital-gains-tax-corporation-tax/part-08/08-03-06.pdf> which sets out guidance, procedures and principles to help taxpayers to operate these exemptions.

Double Tax Agreements (“DTAs”)

Ireland’s DTAs may limit (i.e. reduce) the rate of Irish tax that can be charged on interest payments made to a resident of a treaty partner. In addition to the exemptions in section 246(3) TCA 1997, paragraph 9 of Tax and Duty Manual 08-03-06 outlines the self-certification process that provides that tax can be withheld at the DTA rate, rather than the standard rate of 20%, from interest paid to residents of a treaty partner. Please refer to Tax and Duty Manual 08-03-06 to determine if you can avail of the provisions of paragraph 9.

How Repayments will be made:

All repayments will be made electronically to a specified Bank Account (see section on Page 1).
