1 Introduction

Revenue provides online payment facilities via myAccount and ROS for a wide range of taxes (including interest and penalties). Online payment channels provide a quicker, more secure, and cheaper facility for taxpayers to pay their taxes and access their payments history and tax details at any stage. The majority of taxpayers use Revenue's electronic channels.

2 Online Enhancement for VRT

Since September 2020, an online payment facility for VRT has been available on ROS and My Account. This allows customers with an existing VRT registration to make VRT payments via ROS or MyAccount. Where a customer is not registered for VRT and wishes to make a VRT payment, the customer is automatically registered for VRT. An agent who is linked to a customer will also be able to make VRT payments on their behalf via ROS.

Online payments can be made via Debit card, Credit card, or Single Debit Instruction (customer instruction to Revenue to deduct the payment from a nominated bank account). The card payment facility is only available to customers whose tax affairs are managed by Revenue's Personal and Business Divisions.

3 Benefits of the Enhancement

In addition to providing a quicker, more secure, and cheaper payment facility, the key benefits of using online payments for VRT customers are as follows:

- Instant credit applied to the customer account, eliminating the need for follow up contact to the relevant local office to apply credit.
- Auto registration for customers who wish to use the online payments facility and who have no previous VRT registration.
- Customers can view their payments history at any stage listing all payments made by date, payment type and amount.
- Traders who have a registration for VRT under a Trader Account Number (TAN) in addition to a customer registration number, now have the option to use the TAN or the customer registration number (including a ceased registration number) on the payment screen. This ensures the payment is allocated to the correct registration number.
