1 Introduction

Due to the risk of introducing animal disease into the EU, strict controls are placed on the importation, either in personal luggage or by post, of products of animal origin for personal consumption and live animals. The relevant legislation is referenced at Section 5 of this manual.

In this manual, the term 'importation' means the movement of goods and live animals into Ireland from countries outside the EU.

2 Prohibition/Restriction

2.1 Products of animal origin

The importation of products of animal origin which form part of travellers' luggage is prohibited. Similarly, such products that are sent as small consignments to private persons or that are ordered remotely (for example by mail, by telephone or via the Internet) and delivered to the consumer, are also prohibited. However, limited derogations are applicable and details of these are set out at Annex 1.

This prohibition does not apply to products imported from the following countries: Andorra, Liechtenstein, Norway, San Marino and Switzerland

2.2 Live animals

The importation of all live animals (including pets and birds), either in personal luggage or through postal hubs, is restricted and prior approval must be obtained from the Department of Agriculture, Food and the Marine before entering the State.

However, this restriction does not apply to importations from Andorra, Faroe Islands, Greenland, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Monaco, Norway, San Marino, Switzerland and Vatican.

Live animals may be imported only at Dublin Airport and Shannon Airport.
