1. Introduction

This Manual provides a guide for staff when dealing with the movement of firearms, ammunition, humane killers, offensive weapons, explosives, explosive substances and military goods.

For the purposes of this Manual, the term 'movement' is defined as intra-Community transfer and or import from and export to third countries.

This Manual explains the various licensing requirements for these goods. Assuming the necessary documentation is produced, the normal customs rules apply in relation to imports/exports from/to outside the EU (i.e. payment of duty and import VAT on imports and presentation of a SAD declaration where necessary).

2. Restrictions and Prohibitions

The movement of certain categories of offensive weapons is totally prohibited and there are restrictions in place in respect of the movement of firearms, ammunition, humane killers, explosives, explosive substances and military goods.

Details of these restrictions are set out in Annex 1 of this manual. Annex 2 sets out definitions of firearms, ammunition, humane killers, offensive weapons, explosives, explosive substances and military goods.

Where the Department of Defence (DOD) moves goods for its own purposes, DOD issues its own licence, which is presented to Customs upon arrival of the goods.

Persons who are in the process of taking up permanent residence in the State may not import firearms, ammunition or humane killers for the first six months of their residence and thereafter are subject to all the same requirements as an Irish Resident.

3. Derogations

Firearms, ammunition, explosives, explosive substances and military goods held on board a ship as part of the equipment of a ship are exempt from these restrictions. It is mandatory, however, that full particulars of these firearms, ammunition, explosives, explosives substances and military goods are included in the record of surplus stores on board the ship. Firearms and military goods may be brought ashore for repair under a permit issued by An Garda Síochána and this permit should be noted by Customs with:

- the description of the firearm and/or military goods
- the date of bringing ashore
- the date of return to the holder and.
- particulars of the landing and the subsequent return of the firearm and/or military goods should be noted in the record of surplus stores.

The movement out of the State of firearms, ammunition, humane killers, explosives, explosive substances and military goods by DOD or An Garda Síochána is also exempt from licence and certificate requirements. Specific arrangements are also in place to cover importations of firearms by An Garda Síochána.

In general, genuine antique firearms may be imported and exported without a licence. Firearms manufactured before c. 1898 with an ignition system that does not utilise cased ammunition are regarded as antique. Where there are doubts as to whether a firearm is an antique the matter should be referred to the Department of Justice and Equality (DJE), Crime 4 Division Tel.: 01 6028202. The firearm should be detained pending such clarification.

4. Action required

The following material is either exempt from or not required to be published under the Freedom of Information Act 2014

- It should be ensured that the goods are accompanied by the appropriate documentation required under Annex 1.
- When firearms, ammunition, humane killers, explosives, explosive substances, pyrotechnic devices or military goods are moved as cargo, it should be confirmed that the correct licence code (1L32) and licence number have been inserted in Box 44 of the SAD;
- The details of the firearm or humane killer (make, serial number etc.) should be checked to ensure that it compares in all respects to the details on any of the required documentation;
- The quantity of ammunition, explosives, explosive substances or military goods should be checked to ensure it does not exceed the quantity shown;
- It should be established that the person moving the firearms, ammunition, humane killers, explosives, explosive substances or military goods is the person named on the documentation. A registered firearms dealer may act as an intermediary to move firearms for the holder of a firearms certificate.

Mandatory red routings have been incorporated into the AEP system in respect of imports / exports of firearms, ammunition, offensive weapons, humane killers, explosives, explosive substances and military goods.

5. Detentions and seizures

The following material is either exempt from or not required to be published under the Freedom of Information Act 2014[...]

In cases involving the illegal movement of firearms, ammunition, humane killers, offensive weapons, explosives, explosive substances or military goods International Investigations ,CDLE Unit should be contacted If the goods are handed over to An Garda Síochána, a form C&E 125 should accompany them and should be noted appropriately with the following:

- Required documentation not produced
- Goods are not to be released in the absence of a notification from Revenue.

A receipt is to be obtained in all cases from the Garda Síochána to whom the goods are delivered. Duty and VAT will not be chargeable if the goods are destroyed under State supervision.

6. Health and safety

The following material is either exempt from or not required to be published under the Freedom of Information Act 2014[...]

Firearms, ammunition, offensive weapons, humane killers, explosives, explosive substances pyrotechnic devices and military goods should be handled as little as possible and with extreme caution.

In any cases of doubt or where further clarification is required with regard to the movement of firearms, ammunition, explosives and explosive substances, the Department of Justice and Equality (DJE) Crime 4 Division should be contacted.

Tel.: 01 6028202 / 6028334

Email: firearms_inbox@justice.ie

In any cases of doubt or where further clarification is required with regard to the exportation of military goods, the Department of Jobs, Enterprise & Innovation (DJEI) should be contacted:

Tel: 01 6312328.

In any cases of doubt or where further clarification is required with regard to the importation of military goods, the Department of Defence (DOD) should be contacted:

Tel: 01 8046711

7. Risk Information Form

The RIF(Risk Information Form),which is part of CRMS (Customs Risk Management System)should be used by staff to inform Customs authorities of other Member States of any significant irregularities which have come to light in respect of the importation of products covered by these regulations .For further information on CRMS/RIF staff should contact.

10. Annex 2 – definitions

1. Firearm means:

- (a) A lethal firearm or other lethal weapon of any description from which any shot, bullet or other missile can be discharged;
- (b) An air gun (including an air rifle and air pistol) with a muzzle energy greater than one joule or any other weapon incorporating a barrel from which any projectile can be discharged with such a muzzle energy;
- (c) A crossbow;
- (d) Any type of stun gun or other weapon for causing any shock or other disablement to a person by means of electricity or any other kind of energy emission;
- (e) A prohibited weapon, meaning and including any weapon of whatever description designed for the discharge of any noxious liquid, noxious gas or other noxious thing, and also any ammunition (whether for any such weapon or any other weapon) which contains or is designed or adapted to contain any noxious liquid, noxious gas or other noxious thing,
- (f) Any article which would be a firearm under any of the foregoing paragraphs or paragraph (h) but for the fact that, owing to the lack of a necessary component part or parts, or to any other defect or condition, it is incapable of discharging a shot, bullet or other missile or projectile or of causing a shock or other disablement, as the case may be;
- (g) Except where the context otherwise requires, any component part of any article referred to in any of the foregoing paragraphs and, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the following articles shall be deemed to be such component parts:
 - (i) Telescope sights with a light beam, or telescope sights with an electronic light amplification device or an infra-red device, designed to be fitted to a firearm specified in paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (e),

- (ii) A silencer designed to be fitted to a firearm specified in paragraph (a), (b) or (e), and
- (iii) Any object:
 - (I) Manufactured for use as a component in connection with the operation of a firearm, and
 - (II) Without which it could not function as originally designed,
- (h) A device capable of discharging blank ammunition and to be used as a starting gun or blank firing gun and includes a restricted firearm unless otherwise provided or the context otherwise requires.

2. Ammunition:

Ammunition (except where used in relation to a prohibited weapon) means ammunition for a firearm and includes:

- (a) grenades, bombs and other similar missiles, whether or not capable of being used with a firearm;
- (b) Any ingredient or component part of any such ammunition or missile;
- (c) Restricted ammunition, unless the context otherwise requires.

3. Humane Killers:

Humane Killers of the “captive bolt” type resemble pistols but they do not discharge a projectile. The ammunition used in them is a blank cartridge, which, when exploded, drives forward a captive bolt, with which the animal is killed.

4. Offensive Weapons:

(a) A flick-knife, which is:-

- (i) A knife that opens when hand pressure is applied to a button, spring, lever or other device in or attached to the handle, or
- (ii) A knife that has a blade, which is released from the handle or sheath by the force of gravity or the application of centrifugal force. When released it is locked in an open position by means of a button, spring, lever or other device;

(b) A knuckle-duster, which is: -

- (i) A band of metal or other hard material worn on one or more fingers, and designed to cause injury, or

- (ii) Any weapon incorporating a knuckle-duster;
- (c) A swordstick or dagger cane is a hollow walking stick or cane containing a blade, which may be used as a sword or dagger;
- (d) A sword umbrella is an umbrella containing a blade, which may be used as a sword;
- (e) Any weapon from which one or more sharp spikes protrude that is worn attached to the foot, ankle, arm, hand or wrist (sometimes known as a footclaw or as a handclaw);
- (f) The weapon, sometimes known as a belt buckle knife, being a buckle which incorporates or conceals a knife;
- (g) The weapon, sometimes known as a push dagger, being a knife the handle of which fits within a clenched fist with a blade protruding from between two fingers;
- (h) The weapon, sometimes known as a hollow kubotan, being a cylindrical container containing a number of sharp spikes;
- (i) The weapon, sometimes known as a shuriken, shaken or death star, being a hard non-flexible plate having three or more sharp radiating points and designed to be thrown;
- (j) The weapon, sometimes known as a balisong or butterfly knife, being a blade enclosed by its handle, which is designed to split down the middle, without the operation of a spring or other mechanical means, to reveal the blade;
- (k) The weapon, sometimes known as a telescopic truncheon or telescopic billy, being a truncheon which extends automatically by hand pressure applied to a button, spring or other device in or attached to its handle;
- (l) The weapon, sometimes known as a blowpipe or blow gun, being a hollow tube out of which hard pellets or darts are shot by the use of human breath;
- (m) The weapon, sometimes known as a kusari Gama, being a length of rope, cord, wire or chain fastened at one end to a sickle;
- (n) The weapon, sometimes known as a kyoketsu shoge, being a length of rope, cord, wire or chain fastened at one end to a hooked knife;
- (o) The weapon, sometimes known as a manrikigusari or kusari, being a length of rope, cord, wire or chain fastened at each end to a hard weight or handgrip;
- (p) The weapon, sometimes known as a sap glove, being a glove into which metal or some other hard material has been inserted or to which metal or such material has been attached;
- (q) The broad knife known as a machete or matchete
- (r) The sword sometimes known as samurai or katana, other than such a sword—
 - (i) made before 1954, or

(ii) made at any other time according to traditional methods of making swords by hand

5. Explosives and Explosive Substances:

Under S.I. No 115 of 1995 (Placing on market and supervision of explosives for civil uses);

Explosives means:

the substances and articles considered to be such in the United Nations recommendations on the transport of dangerous goods and falling within Class 1 of those recommendations;

Explosive substance means:

a solid or liquid substance, or a mixture of solids or liquid substances or both, which is capable by chemical reaction in itself of producing gas at such a temperature and pressure and at such a speed as could cause damage to surroundings;

Pyrotechnic article* means an article which contains one or more pyrotechnic substances but no explosive substances; and Pyrotechnic substance means a substance or a mixture of substances designed to produce an effect by heat, light, sound, gas or smoke or a combination of these as the result of non-detonative self sustaining exothermic chemical reactions.

*Note that Pyrotechnic articles are not subject to S.I. No 115 of 1995, and therefore do not require a transfer document. They do however require an import license issued by DJE

In addition to the above, Certain Ammonium Nitrates, Sodium Chlorate, Nitro-Benzene, Potassium Nitrate and Sodium Nitrate have been deemed as explosives under Explosives Act 1875 and, S.I.NO.191 of 1972 S.I. No. 233, and S.I. No.273 of 1986.

Note that substances deemed to be explosives are not subject to S.I. 115 of 1995, and therefore do not require a transfer document. They do however require an import license issued from the DJE.

6. Military Goods:

Military goods are defined as listed in Control of Exports (Goods and Technology) Order 2009 S.I. No. 305 of 2009

Under the Control of Exports (Goods And Technology) Order 2009 S.I. No. 305 of 2009 military explosives are solid, liquid or gaseous substances or mixtures of substances which, in their application as primary, booster, or main charges in warheads, demolition and other military applications, are required to detonate.
