

Thank you for the opportunity to make a submission.

We would suggest the following:

Employers be permitted to take a small commission on all taxes collected.

There is a cost involved in this considerable work, and with margins in business tighter than ever perhaps it is appropriate to allow a 1% commission for the main tax collectors:

Employers

The commission would be contingent on taxes being paid in full and on time.

What better incentive?

Thank you,

John Hall